Rector's Message

Today I thought I would write briefly about the fact that we are, by choice, a full boarding school. Full time boarding is an increasingly rare construct globally and nationally with just two such schools in South Africa. However, it is one which we deeply believe in and one to which we are fully committed. Full time boarding offers many advantages over day-schooling or weekly-boarding but today we will dwell on just three of them.

In the first instance, full time boarding develops independence in young men and sets them up for a life beyond school. Secondly, full time boarding creates additional time in each boy's day with no time being wasted waiting for transport to and from school or sitting in traffic each day. We put this time to excellent use in our pursuit of a holistic education and we are very proud of the breadth of opportunities we are able to create for our boys. Thirdly, when boys live together full time for extended periods they learn to live in a community and they form friendships which last a lifetime.

Of course, we do not need to sell full time boarding to you as you have already chosen this option for your son. However, we do want to take this opportunity to do two things:

Firstly, while we have been offering full boarding since inception, we are continually refining our model in order that it remains both optimal and relevant for the present day. We are proud of the fact that, as a school, we are a thought leader in this space with many of our staff making valuable contributions at national and international conferences around boarding. Please refer to the article further down in my message about the research being done and shared by Herman Visagie, Founders Housemaster.

Secondly, this is a good time to reflect briefly on what it means for each of you to be a parent of a boarder. By sending your son to Michaelhouse you are making great sacrifices (emotional and financial to mention just two). While you are no longer responsible for ensuring his bed is made or his homework is done, you are by no means abdicating your responsibilities as a parent. Your role-modelling and your support for your son remain all important. As a school we know that we are most effective when we work in partnership with you, the parent. We count on your support but we also appreciate the trust you place in our staff and our processes. Your confidence in us will inspire confidence in your son and make him more receptive.

For your son to develop the independence mentioned above you will, at times, need to give him the space and time to try and solve his own problems with the support of his Housemaster, tutor, teachers and friends amongst others. This can take some getting used to and may require you to manage your natural instinct to dive in. We are certainly not arguing for a hands-off approach but rather a considered one. It goes without saying that you should always communicate any concerns you may have. We are proud of the relationships between Michaelhouse and the parent community and we want to take this opportunity to thank you for your support for our staff, our systems and, most importantly, your sons.

Mr Herman Visagie, who completed his Master's degree in Residential Education through the University of Buckingham in 2024, has been awarded the UK-based Boarding Schools' Association (BSA) Research Fellowship for 2025/2026, as well as the ISASA Staff Development Fund Award for 2026. These awards enabled him to present his ongoing research at the annual BSA Conference in Nottingham, England, held on 27 and 28 January.

Herman's current research builds on his Master's work, which explored boarding culture, with a particular focus on the situational influences that drive conformity and their impact on adolescent wellbeing. His work also examines the development of situational awareness training for boarding staff as a proactive approach to strengthening boarding environments.

He has presented on adolescent wellbeing and boarding practice at schools and conferences across South Africa, and the BSA Conference provided a valuable opportunity to share this work on an international stage.

As a school, we are proud of Herman's contribution to residential education research. Herman's work speaks directly to the heart of our boarding tradition: the intentional care of boys within a strong, values-based residential community. His research enriches our understanding of boarding culture and supports the ongoing development of staff who seek to create Houses in which boys can flourish, feel secure, and grow in character.

Co-Curricular and Individual Achievements

Swimming Report

On Wednesday, 28 January, Michaelhouse attended the annual Dimont Gala. This traditional fun gala sees boys' schools paired with girls' schools, with captains drawing the names of their partner schools at random. Michaelhouse was teamed with Epworth, St Charles with The Wykeham Collegiate (TWC), and Hilton with St Anne's. A late withdrawal from Maritzburg College resulted in St John's DSG and Pietermaritzburg Girls' High School being paired together.

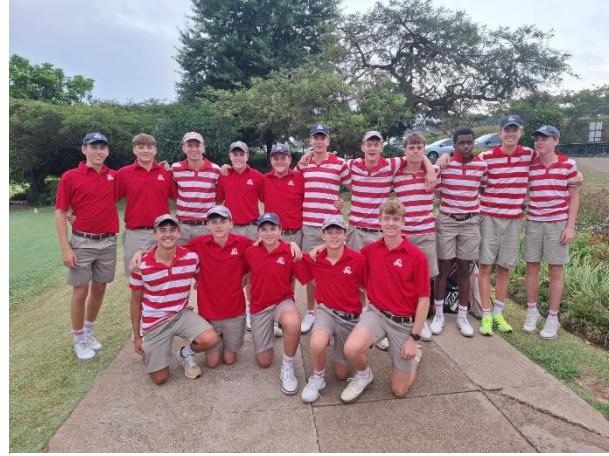

The afternoon was filled with enthusiasm, school spirit, and several closely contested races. The U14 Michaelhouse/Epworth team dominated the competition, winning all but one race, while the U15s delivered consistently strong performances, finishing second in each of their events.

Overall, Michaelhouse and Epworth finished third with 52 points, Hilton and St Anne's placed second with 60 points, and St Charles and TWC secured first place with 66 points.

Their clinical 14-4 win over St David's and a hard-fought 5-4 edge over Affies showcased a perfect balance of dominant attack and disciplined defence.

Clubs and Societies

The annual Clubs & Societies Fair took place on Monday, 2 February. The teachers, as well as senior boys, in charge of over 30 Clubs and Societies had the opportunity to invite boys to showcase and join their societies. Alongside the Cultural Programme, Clubs and Societies provide boys with a wide range of enriching experiences throughout their Michaelhouse career. The Cultural Programme also used this opportunity to showcase some of the various activities available to boys with the Music Department delivering some excellent performances.

We expect boys to join at least one society. This is not intended to increase their workload, but rather to serve as an avenue for enrichment, fun, and fostering interests while at Michaelhouse.

Michaelhouse Culinary Society

The Michaelhouse Culinary Society launched its 2026 programme in fine style with a shisinyama braai demonstration by the legendary Thobs Dumakude, held as part of the Clubs and Societies Fair held last week Monday. Thobs demonstrated how to prepare a selection of steaks and traditional shisinyama dishes, sharing both practical technique and insight into this proudly South African food culture.

The food was shared with the boys as they signed up for the opportunity to join the society, creating a relaxed, engaging, and memorable introduction to what the Culinary Society offers.

The Culinary Society provides Michaelhouse boys with a unique opportunity to develop practical cooking skills and a deeper appreciation for food through hands-on experiences, in-house demonstrations, and external partnerships. This includes ongoing involvement with Jackie Cameron throughout the year, as well as a number of new initiatives planned in collaboration with local eateries and chefs, promising an exciting and enriching programme for 2026.

Service

Thank you to boys from Mackenzie House who helped at Khazimula with moving bookcases, sorting and packing books as well as prepping the steps for a repaint.

We have been able to purchase a number of indigenous trees and vegetable seedlings from the funds raised from Arbour Day initiatives and will be planting trees as well as helping with the vegetable gardens at various partner schools at their request. Well done to the Baines boys who worked hard in the heat with the children from Jabula Combined School to plant beautiful trees in the playground and vegetables in the vegetable garden. Thank you to Mrs Leigh Kotze for sourcing the trees, seedlings and additional compost.

Old Boys' Club News

Jesse Breytenbach

Ian Graham & Samir Dookie

Gqamile Mbuyazi

Michaelhouse is proud to celebrate the achievements of several Old Boys who continue to distinguish themselves in the world of music, both locally and internationally. Four of our boys who studied music as a matric subject in recent years have gone on to make their mark in academia and performance globally. Ian Graham (Baines, 2025) has been awarded a prestigious scholarship to pursue his music studies at the Berklee College of Music's Valencia campus in Spain, beginning in September 2026. A gifted pianist, Ian has long been recognised as an outstanding performer within, and outside the school.

Jesse Breytenbach (Pascoe, 2021) continues to make waves as the singer and guitarist in the father-son rock duo Cantrel. The group has performed across Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and South Africa, drawing a growing international audience. Their track Walls has gained significant traction online, surpassing one million views on social media - an exciting milestone for this young musician.

Samir Dookie (Tatham, 2023), another talented pianist, has also been awarded a music scholarship and is currently studying towards a classical B.Mus degree in piano performance at the Royal Welsh College of Music & Drama in Cardiff, Wales. His classmate, Gqamile Mbuyazi (Founders, 2023), is pursuing contemporary music studies at the Berklee College of Music in Boston, USA. Both young men continue to perform regularly and generously share their musical gifts with the Michaelhouse community whenever they are home.

These remarkable achievements highlight the strength of the Music Department and the passion, discipline, and commitment of our musicians. We wish these young men every success as they continue to carry the Michaelhouse name with pride across the globe.

Join the Midlands Branch of the Michaelhouse Old Boys' Club on 12 February at Fordoun for an inspiring fireside conversation as we explore the remarkable paths taken by several Old Boys whose lives and careers have been shaped by the great outdoors. In addition to Old Boys and their families, this relaxed (child friendly) Midlands gathering is open to all school staff, parents (current and past!), and friends and family of the Michaelhouse community.
